

BOULEVARD EXCHANGE QUICKLY CUT INTO USE

Interruption to Telephone Service
Lasts Less Than One Minute.

MEETS GROWTH OF WEST END

Telephone Development in Richmond
Has Been Phenomenal, More Than 100,000 Calls Being Made Each
Day—Over 20,000 Phones.

For nearly one minute last night at 10 o'clock Richmond telephone patrons experienced some little difficulty in getting the proper connections. In that brief interval of time the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia cut 3,000 lines from the central office to the new "Boulevard" exchange at 2115 Stuart Avenue, West End. So quickly and effectively was the change made that those who were not expecting it were ignorant of what had been done.

The rapid growth of the West End section of the city and the increased demand for telephone facilities to serve that section made necessary the establishment of the exchange. The new exchange, which is supplied with the most modern equipment, will serve subscribers transferred from the "Madison" and "Randolph" exchanges who are located west of Allen Avenue, Frederickburg and Potomac Rivers. The new exchange of the telephone directory, which is being distributed to patrons, contains, as far as possible, the new telephone numbers, and to avoid confusion, patrons are requested to look up numbers in the new directory before making calls. Subscribers whose numbers have been changed have been duly notified by the company of the new numbers which have been assigned to them.

NEW EXCHANGE HAS MOST MODERN EQUIPMENT

The new Boulevard office is the most modern and up-to-date exchange in the company's territory. Nothing but the latest and most approved apparatus has been installed, and every detail of the exchange is complete. In the new building, as well as at the central office, the operators' restrooms and dining-rooms are comfortable and luxurious, and the operators are surrounded by all of the comforts to be found in the most modern residences. The vast amount of skillful work required to disconnect the telephone lines from the Randolph and Madison exchanges to the new Boulevard exchange can hardly be realized by the average person. For several months past the telephone lines in the West End which were to be transferred to the new exchange have been connected by miniature copper wires in the underground cables with the Boulevard exchange, but at the same time have remained connected with one or the other of the downtown exchanges.

Last night by "pulling the heat coils" on the main frame in a downtown office these lines were disconnected from the central office. Simultaneously with the pulling of the heat coils in the downtown office the relays on these same lines in the Boulevard office were released, and automatically the lines were thrown into the Boulevard exchange permanently.

While many months of hard work were required to do the preliminary work in connection with the cut-over, the actual transfer of telephones from one exchange to the other was made in less than one minute.

RICHMOND LEADER IN TELEPHONE DEVELOPMENT

Richmond was one of the first cities in the entire country to have a telephone exchange. The first telephones were installed here in the year 1878. There were few subscribers in those times, and their telephones were connected by wires crudely stretched over the housetops. On January 1, 1890, there were in Richmond and immediate suburbs 798 telephones, and by 1900 the number of telephones in use was 1,947. Ten years later the number had reached 11,594, and there are to-day in the city and immediate suburbs 29,990 telephones in use.

On January 1, 1900, about 15,000 calls were handled each day by the Richmond exchange, while to-day there are being handled 150,000 calls each day, 50 per cent of which have to go through a second operator because it is necessary to switch them from one exchange to another. These figures indicate that during every twenty-four hours some 220,000 persons in the city communicate with each other over the telephones.

In the year 1910 only one exchange was operated by the company, but during July of that year the "Madison" and "Randolph" exchanges were put in operation, and the other exchange was designated "Boulevard." The newest exchange, "Boulevard," was last night put into operation, connecting 3,000 telephones. The company, by careful calculations, estimates that with the advent of the year 1930 two switchboards will be required to serve the West End, and, with this in mind, the new Boulevard Building has been constructed so that additional stories can be added and additional room made for another switchboard.

At the present 275 operators and several supervisors are required to operate the Richmond exchanges, while in 1900 twenty-five girls did the work.

BURGLAR CAUGHT IN ACT BY RAILWAY WATCHMAN

Negro Was Trying to Force Way Into Storehouse of Harvey, Blair & Co.

Caught in the act of breaking into the wholesale storehouse of Harvey, Blair & Co., 511 East Canal Street, last night about 10 o'clock, a negro, who gave his name as Nathaniel Green, was locked in the First Precinct Station, to be held for a hearing in the Police Court to-morrow morning.

The capture was made by J. W. Light, a special agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, who informed the police that he had watched the man and a companion at work on one of the windows for nearly fifteen minutes before he had approached them. He said that he was waiting for the men to effect an entrance before attempting to arrest them. He would have carried this plan out but for the fact that a railroad shifting engine approached on one of the side tracks in the vicinity and frightened the men.

One of the burglars fled, but Light managed to capture Green before he had an opportunity to do so. Chauffeur Metcalf, of the police patrol, and Patrolman Duggins searched the neighborhood thoroughly after they had arrived on the scene, but were unable to find any trace of the other negro.

Green carried with him a crowbar about five feet long and a long, thin-bladed knife. He expected to use the crowbar to prize up the windows or to force the doors, the police believe, and they think that the knife was for the purpose of lifting any latches on the windows through which the men might desire to go. They had smashed the glass from one large window when Light captured his man.

The special agent said that he had noticed the men in the neighborhood, and that they had been acting suspiciously. He watched them and followed them to Blair's storehouse.

Landlady: "Ever since Jones took Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I've lost money on him."

The answer is in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because, as all stomach troubles arise from indigestion and because one ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is able to thoroughly and completely digest 3,000 grains of food, doesn't it stand to reason that these tablets are going to digest all the food and whatever food you put into your stomach?

KAPPA ALPHA FRATERNITY MEETS HERE ON FRIDAY

Will Be Welcomed by Mayor Ainslie, an Active Member of the Order.

MANY PROMINENT MEN COMING

Several Speakers of Note to Address
Annual Banquet at Jefferson Hotel
on Saturday Night—Local Chapter
Will Entertain Handsomely.

Developments for the Province Council of the K. A. Ammen Province of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity, to be held in this city on November 27 and 28, are fast progressing. The official headquarters of the council will be at the Jefferson Hotel. Friday morning at 10 o'clock the council will be called to order and an address of welcome delivered by Mayor George Ainslie, who is a member of the order. Other business sessions will be held on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning and Saturday afternoon. At the last business session of the council officers will be elected for the province for the next two years. The social program will be arranged by the members of the fraternity in Richmond, and will include a banquet Saturday night, at which a notable collection of men prominent in the order throughout this section will be present. Among the many members of the fraternity in Richmond are Mayor Ainslie, F. P. McConnell, president Manchester National Bank, J. L. Stern and L. F. Blanton, secretary of the local alumni chapter. Brian McKisick, formerly attached to the editorial staff of The Times-Dispatch, is now located at Greenville, S. C., is expected to visit Richmond for the council.

Several of the general officers of the order will probably be present. F. P. McConnell is grand purser of the order. The grand historian W. E. Crawford, of Florida, and chief alumni H. Augustus Miller, Jr., of Petersburg, will be in Richmond at that time. The province officials will all be present. It is expected that the council will bring together a notable gathering of the leading Kappa Alpha's in this and nearby States. Delegates will be present from the eleven active chapters in the province and from most of the alumni chapters. The council call has been extensively circulated through the States composing the province. The local active and alumni chapters have been very active in making arrangements. Richmond is noted for the entertainment furnished visitors to a meeting of this nature, and will be especially planned to have been selected as a meeting place of an organization which is typically representative of southern ideals and characteristics. A most enjoyable occasion is promised for all of the visitors to the council meetings.

Want to Go Back to Reformatory.

Durham White and Gus Walsh, two sixteen-year-old white boys, last night appeared at the Second Precinct Station and asked to be sent back to the reformatory school at Laurel. They said that they had been paroled there some time ago, but had been unable to locate their parents, and preferred the school life to tramping about the country. They surrendered themselves to Bicycle Policemen Goring and were taken to the Detention Home.

MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR STAIN

This Home Made Mixture Darkens
Gray Hair and Makes It Soft and Glossy.

To a half pint of water add:
Bay Rum 1 oz.
Barbo Compound a small box
Glycerine 1-1 oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, relieves itching and scalp diseases. Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes hair soft and glossy.—Advertisement.
